Canadian Tire Program Sustains Strength

Jet Airways Visits Centennial's SoT

Pictured above is Mr. Justin Gosling, General Manager-Canada for Jet Airways with Gail (Director of Business Development), Judy Turner (Associate VP of Business Development) and Rosanna Cavallaro (Director of Marketing/Communications). We were pleased to give Mr. Gosling a tour of our facility at the SoT. Jet Airways is an India (Mumbai) based company that is gaining significant traction in the International market. In a poll conducted in September 2008, it was voted as the world's seventh best airline overall. Jet Airways has also won an award for the quality of its catering. According to March 2008 figures, Jet Airways share of India's domestic aviation market stood at 29.8%, including its low-cost subsidiary JetLite's share of 7.1%, making it the largest airline in India.

Aerospace Technology Campus at BCIT

The Aerospace Technology Campus at the Vancouver International Airport in Richmond is home to the aerospace-related program offered by BCIT. The new campus opened in September 2007 and boasts a 40,000 square foot hangar housing the BCIT fleet of helicopters and fixed wing aircraft. The campus also features 40 classrooms and “smart” labs equipped with wireless technology. Pictured below is John MacGillivray (Administrative Manager) in the foyer, an area this is also used for large gatherings (graduations, etc.).
